Due: April 22, 2024

Final Presentation Submission
Due: April 29th

Participate in Multiple Ways

- Formal Presentations: Join the symposium live in person or by Zoom and give a 7-8 minute presentation of your work. Eligible for symposium awards.

- Gallery Presentations: If you can't attend, submit your poster or Powerpoint with a recorded presentation to the online project gallery. Not eligible for symposium prizes, but still amazing presentation practice.

- Work in Progress: If you have a research idea or have started a project, submit a short presentation. Let others offer feedback and suggestions.

- Just attend: Come along to listen and have lunch. You don't have to register!

The Data to Policy Project

The Data to Policy Project works to encourage students to use public data for public good. Students who participate use geographical data, census and survey data, policy and legal information - all to solve pressing social problems. Good data can bring about social change.

D2P is sponsored by the Auraria Library. The goal of the program is to encourage students to use publicly available information and data to explore social problems and solutions – public data for public The D2P Symposium is a space for you to present your work.

You can present in one of three ways:

1. Formal presentation: Submit your presentation to the Gallery and attend the symposium in-person or virtually. Present your work live. Only formal presentations are eligible for judging and awards.
2. Gallery presentation: Submit your presentation to the Gallery only. Gallery presentations are not eligible for judging and awards.
3. Work in progress: Do you have an idea or a partial paper you would like to discuss? Prepare an informal short presentation and ask others for feedback and suggestions for the work. Just register and join us at the symposium.
